"Ever since the release of our premiere collection in 1994, we have striven to create finely handmade designs with a classically timeless feel from the most luxurious fabrics and trimmings available. Based out of the haunting town of Salem, Massachusetts, our clothing is designed for those darkly romantic souls who dream of an existence in another place and time. With wishes to darken the days and prolong the nights, Curse and Kambriel"

These very *R*A*D* kids have got it!!! I have run across other clothing lines and companies and admired the clothing, the material, the types of styles and talent it takes to make a clothing line for us. BUT I have never, ever run across a more talented and skilled clothing line that I respected as well as admired. And from me, that's saying alot. I've known the owners/operators/extremely cool people for quite some time (I would even dare to say two years, if not more) and Curse and Kambriel not only produce a great clothing line, but they also possess one other attribute that I see lacking in other companies: the ability to listen to the needs of their customers, as well as keeping their friendship. That is rare in our type of business. I, personally, have the same type of professional and courteous demeanor about me when I work with my customers at Gothic Designs. I work hard to keep it that way and through Atrocities websites, Emails, catalogs and letters, I know that they feel the same way. I guess that is why I am so passionate about promoting them as a company as well as admiring the friendship.

When I received their newest catalog - I thought I would fall to the ground. The layout is gorgeous and the pictures are incredible!! Of course, I immediately wanted to order every single thing in there (which I will do in the near future!), but to see how well their business has progressed over the last few years. I know that they are rapidly passing all of the other "gothic" clothing line companies, for the reasons stated above. See their ad in the back of this Zine for further info!! You must have this Catalog!

. A Gothik Zine for, by and about the Voluptuous Girl in us all!!!
